The Rumored Statement of Ross Not Believed-The Question of a Will.

Few events that have taken place in the State recently have excited more interest than the Ross-Hughes tragedy, which occurred at Gloucester Courthouse Thursday afternoon. The Dispatch made Friday morning the first announcement of the shair in a correspondent to West Point, from which place he has remained in telephone communication (twenty-three miles) with our Glouter Courthouse correspondent ever since. The following embraces the latest develop-

The examination before the Magistrate's Court was postponed on motion of the Commonwealth until 10:30 o'alook Monday morning. The latest rumor is that Ross says that his wife told him Wednesday night after they retired that Hughes had offered her indignities that day. He wanted to go the the Hughes's room but she reher indignities that day. He wanted to go down then to Hughes's room, but she restrained him. Ross and his wife did not leave their room Thursday morning until Hughes wentaway. His wife spent most of the day at his office, going home that exeming. He induced her to tell him more fully of Hughes's conduct. He went at once to Hughes's room and told him that he wanted an explanation. Hughes seked: "Of what?"

New York, December 20, 1886.

Dear Mrs. Ayer: Immediately after my return to New York to open my engagement I purchased a far of your Recamier Cream, a bottle of Recamier Baim, and some powder which I but seen strongly endorsed by Mrs. James Brown Potter and Mrs. Langury. I also find the Recamier Preparations absolutely peerless, and assure you I shall always use them. If this letter and may way be of survice to you do not healtate to use it. Very sincerely yours, HELEN MODJESKA, Modieska, Countess of Bozenta.

To Mrs. Harrist Hebbard Ager:
You can have a benutiful complexion by using NORFOLK AND WESTERN RAILthe Recamier Cream, provided you avoid all cos-metics. It will remove the damage caused by cosmetics. It will remove pimples, liver apors, blackbeads, and redness of the skin. Any of these imperfections on a woman's face is equivaent to a painted sign, saying: "This woman is uncleanly in her personal habits; she does not think it worth while to make herself attractive." Send for free sample of Recamier Powder.
